

Big Business And Conservative Groups Helped Bolster The Sedition Caucus' Coffers During The Second Fundraising Quarter Of 2021

Executive Summary

During the 2nd Quarter Of 2021, 25 major PACs tied to corporations, right wing Members of Congress and industry trade associations gave over $1.5 million to members of the Congressional Sedition Caucus, the 147 lawmakers who voted to object to certifying the 2020 presidential election. This includes:

- $140,000 Given By The American Crystal Sugar Company PAC To Members Of The Caucus.
- $120,000 Given By Minority Leader Kevin McCarthy's Majority Committee PAC To Members Of The Caucus
- $41,000 Given By The Space Exploration Technologies Corp. PAC – the PAC affiliated with Elon Musk's SpaceX company.

Also among the top PACs are Lockheed Martin, General Dynamics, and the National Association of Realtors. Duke Energy and Boeing are also on this list despite these entity's public declarations in January aimed at their customers and shareholders that were pausing all donations for a period of time, including those to members that voted against certifying the election.

The leaders, companies and trade groups associated with these PACs should have to answer for their support of lawmakers whose votes that fueled the violence and sedition we saw on January 6.

The Sedition Caucus Includes The 147 Lawmakers Who Voted To Object To Certifying The 2020 Presidential Election, Including 8 Senators And 139 Representatives. The New York Times, [01/07/21]
